The opposing Congress candidates in the First District are W. C. Hawley, Republican, of Salem, and C. V. Galloway, Democrat, of McMinnville; in the Scond District, W. B. Ellis, Republican, of Pendleton, and J. H. Graham, Democrat, of Baker City.

Except in Portland and perhaps one or two of the larger towns of the State, a light vote is being polled. A rainstorm is general throughout the State and the roads are in poor condition, always a sure sign in Oregon that the agricultural vote will be light. In Portland the Senatorial nomination and the gubernatorial election divide honors with an interesting shrievalty contest.

We did look into the matter of sanitary handling of the meats being prepared for the various food products. The results of our observations already have been partly given. Other instances of how products may be made up and still secure the stamp of government inspection are here given:

"In one well-known establishment we came upon fresh meat being shoveled into barrels and a regular preparation being added of stale scraps that had lain on a dirty floor in the corner of a room for some days previous. In another establishment equally well known a long table was noted covered with several hundred pounds of cooked scraps of beef and other meats.

LABELS ON CANS.

All of these canned products, the report says, bear labels, which announce that the product has passed government inspection and that its quality is guaranteed.

The report states that these labels are plainly designed to deceive the average purchaser who naturally infers that the government guarantees the contents of the can to be what it purports to be. The report gives other matances of abuse in the use of labels, aying:

Tsabel had been placed under arrest for having brought American volunteers across the boundary.

So far as known, only three Americans and sixteen Mexicans were killed during the disturbance. In addition to the Metcalfs, Burt Bush of Bisbee was killed.

Fitteen soldiers are on the way to Cananea from the City of Mexico. There was no disorder yesterday or last night, and the situation today is peaceful. Col. Greene walked to his office without a guard this morning. He says he expects to resume work at the mines and smelter today. Capl. Rynning and his rangers returned to Douglas last night.

On Col. Kosterlitzsky's arrival on Saturday, over the head of Gov Ysabel he ordered the American volunteers returned to the boundary. He also ordered all persons to keep off the streets under penalty of instant death. All the stores were closed, and many people went hungry. In carrying out this order a number were shot.

sell, an imperfect and impure substitute which, costing about half the cost of MENNEN'S, yields the dealer double profit.
The "just as good" with which some

Honest Methods Scientific Work

BY RELIABLE PHYSICIANS Results of Our Work Prove Our Ability

The public must not confound us with cheap advertisers. Having been engaged in profes-sional work in Los Angeles for fifteen years, sional work in Los Angeles for fifteen years, endeavoring during that time to prove our ability and reliability by superior work. We are now so well established, so widely known as legitimate specialists for men that we are not obliged to resort to cheap price advertising. Such methods are discountenanced by every capable and worthy physician as well as by the public. However, it is not necessary to enlarge on that point, as the public are pretty good judges of advertising matter as well as to the worth of the physician. We repeat—Dr. Harrison & Co. never fesort to cheap or free treatment ads. A thorough examination and consultation are always free, their fees for treatment always reasonable and commensurate with the work to be done. During our fifteen years in Los Angeles, by hard and close application in our professional work, we have endeavored to perfect ourselves to that degree that our treatment means a successful outcome for our patient. Honest, efficient, careful and thorough treatment in every case we treat has brought us our good reputation, which means that alling men appreciate our services, come to us and send their friends to us.

and sticking it on the back of the chair.

Deep thought-holding it in her fingers and nibbling bits out of it.

She and her sister were the "two Dabney giris," belies of the fashionable set in Washington. The eldest secretly married young E. Kendall Cutter, the last of a distinguished family, against the commands of his father.

They came to Monrovia to live and the younger Miss Dabney lived with them. Even before the recent divorce case it is no secret that the revels at the Cutter house were the scandal of the town. The town marshal was called upon to order them to keep more quiet.

Monrovia wasn't used to the fashionable "Fast Set."

STORRS, THE GUESTS. Widow's Side.

Although perhaps not gulity of murdering her husband, as charged, Mrs. Alberta Storrs is something which is worse in the eyes of the Smart Set in which she travels; she is out of date—she affects the "baby stare" out of about a mile.

No More Flirting Between Dabs of Lather.

Lady Barbers on Strike for Right to Talk.

Imported Ones Given a Week to Keep Quiet.

The burning question of whether women barbers shall have male escorts to and from their work is shaking the foundations of barberdom.

Already the ladies of the lather brush have called one strike, and there is a dire possibility that no longer will the chins of male customers be gently fondled by female barbers in Los Angeles.

And, perish the thought, lady barbers are to be forbidden to "make eyes," or even speak to the male occupant of the next chair unless they are spoken to.

These are the dictums laid down by one Mrs. May Smith, who presides over a lather emporium on Olive street. She says it is an fight to the finish, and throws down the gauntlet to the bar-throws down the gauntiet to the baselers with skirts.

The aforesaid gauntiet has been promptly picked up by Mrs. Keiley, one-time head barber and forelady in the shop of Mrs. Smith.

Twice have Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Kelley crossed swords, and honors are casual remark and flounced toward the door.

Mrs. Kelley just snorted out some casual remark and flounced toward the door.

"Let me have my wages," she said, in a strained tone, "and I will mot trouble you any more."

Then the other women marched up to Mrs. Smith, received their wages, and, without a glance toward the victorious proprietor, stalked out into the cold, cold world—jobiess.

As they reached the door they met a file of young women, carrying the tools of their trade, coming in.
"Mummies," they characterized them. "If they are not now, they will be after they have been in that shop a week." they sollioquized.

Mrs. Smith is smiling triumphantly, and says that her shop is now a shaving parior, and not the center of an interesting but annoying female "gebfest."

Kelley crossed swords, and honors are even.

Mrs/Smith about two weeks ago determined that the lady barbers in her shop should do nothing that Mrs. Grundy would not approve of, and they were there to shave, cut hair, shampoo and singe the customers of that shop, but no "dates" should be made in her place. No, Not if Mrs. Smith knew it, and she said she was in a position of general information in that respect.

For two whole day's the ladies of, Mrs. Smith's shop labored under the new rules. Alone they went to the shop, and alone they departed.

When a man entered the shop to be shaved the slience was ominous. No lady even looked in his direction. His isolation was complete.

He was shaved or shampooed in eilence, and his efforts to open a conversation were met with chilly replies.

He was shaved or shampooed in a typical "Lady Vere De Vere" manner.

Silence: It was the silence before the worm. The creaking of his linen as she wrestled with his collar button was the only sound in the shop. The gentle hum of the lady in the rear stropping her rasor was the only ac-and calmed her a little. She said her husband had shot himself. She said she hardly knew "which one" had fired the shot. She did not explain what she meant by "which one," and did not say who could have shot her husband fi he didn't shoot himself. She said Storrs was "so reckless,"

LEGISLATORE BUSY.

RUSH OF BUSINESS.

Probably more ordinances were adopted by the Council yesterday than at any other meeting of the legislative body in the history of the municipality.

During the six weeks that the Governor has been declaring holidays the legislative matters were held until the holidays should cease.

Yesterday the gates were opened and the rush came. The new laws are all matters that had been passed upon informally by the legislators. They included a score of delayed ordinances of intention for street improvement. In the estate of Mamle Deming, Judge Gibbs was called upon to adjudicate the claims of two husbands to the estate of the deceased, which had been received through the earnings of the last husband.

Mrs. Deming eloped with the man, whose name she finally took, from the Middle West, leaving a husband and several children. H. C. Deming accumulated a good deal of property here as a contractor, and claimed that he and the deceased went through a marriage erremony outside the three-mile limit at sea, beyond Long Beach, but the, court holds that no marriage evertook place, When his acting wife died, Deming claimed the property standing in her name as community property.

NEIL AND ATTELL WILL BE JULY CARD.

Battle to Be Held in After Scrappers Agree to Featherweight Limit at Ringside—Gate Receipts and Championship Belt Induce-ments Offered.

The Pacific Athletic Club will take another whiri at the Attell-Nell match on July 4, Frankie Nell having signified his willingness to meet the featherweight champion on that date. The preliminary steps in the matter were taken several days ago, and Nell's acquiescence came yesterday in a telegram to the club. Under the articles of agreement the fighters agree to weigh 122 pounds ringside, and will fight for gate receipts The question of splitting the money will be settled after Neil's arrival in Los Angeles. Besides the gate receipts the gold belt offered by the Pacific Athletic Club, will be given to the winner of the battle.

Transportation for Nell from New York to Los Angeles was telegraphed yesterday, and the bantamweight champion will start West today.

This battle was to have been pulled off April 20, but the San Francisco earthquake caused a postponement, and Nell sought forumes in the East. In order to prevent any question arising as to the weight stipulation, both Attell and Nell agree to weigh in every day the last week of training. It will be weeks before Attell will get down to any kind of training, save a little road work, owing to an injury to one of his fingers, caused by accidentally coming into contact with a knife in a friend's hand.

The battle will be held in the afternoon instead of at night, the management of the club believing a good crowd will turn out on that date.

By defeating the Thirtieth-street school girls' basketball team yesterday afternoon the Washington-street school not only wins the grammar school championship, but The Times cup.
The game that decided the issue was replete with hard, fast work, and the trophy was not surrendered until the last ditch had been taken, and an extra, basket played. The teams kept fairly even, to near the close of the second half, when a tie score of 14 to 14 resulted. In the play-off the Washington-street school team scored an extra basket and the game by a score of 16 to 14.

Reduced Undermuslins

Great as the selling has been, the full, complete and snowy stocks of undermuslins now on the counters look as though it were the sale's first day. That's one epidence of Coulter preparation. Look at the garments themselves and you will find other evidence of the same thing. These are new undermuslins, spotlessly white and made of fine materials. The careful shaping, the thoroughly good making show themselves as soon as you begin to examine closely. They are underclothes of a better than ordinary standard, and yet the prices are as low as you will find them anywhere. Quality and sariety are two great features in which this June sale of muslin undergarments stands alone.

Prices from $300 to $600 per acre, including an abundant water supply from flowing artesian wells piped to each lot. Sure to double in value.

Two thousand acres of this famous "Sunny Slope Ranch" have already been sold in tracts of five and ten acres each; hundreds of pretty, artistic homes built and occupied by happy families of a most desirable class. "Sunny Slope" is the most delightful spot in all Southern California. Accessible, productive, good roads, schools, free rural delivery, tradespeople call, and, in fact, all the conveniences of a city location.

Soil adapted to growing oranges, walnuts, berries, apricots, peaches and vegetables, and the wonderful grape vines speak for themselves. The immense crop of grapes now maturing will pay the purchaser handsome returns. Positively no safer investment, or a more charming place for a productive country home can be found. How much better this class of investment than buying a vacant unproductive lot.

A Tower of Business Strength.

Tremendous Volume of The Times' May Advertising an Indication of Existing Healthy Business Conditions in Southern California:

THE thriving trade conditions, now existing in the whole Southwest, may be truly gauged by the extraordinarily large volume of advertising regularly printed in The Los Angeles Times.

Compared with May of the preceding year, last month showed the large gain of 1190 columns of paid matter. The aggregate was 4843 columns. The combined total for the two morning contemporaries of The Times was only 3726 columns. Both papers together printed 1117 columns less than the volume of advertising printed in The Times alone.

The five other Los Angeles newspapers show a gain of 831 col umns altogether. Thus The Times alone had a greater gain by 359 columns that all other Los Angeles papers combined.

These are figures for Los Angeles business men to ponder over. The volume of advertising regularly printed in The Times has never been equaled by any newspaper in America.

The sworn daily average circulation for each day of May, 1906 (the detailed figures for each day being printed on another page), was 53,138 copies, as against 41,705 copies for May, 1905.

BIG GAME TOMORROW.

Local College Nines Preparing for the Saturday showed that they are very evenly matched.

The Occidental players are slow getting into condition, and did not strike their proper gait until after the other teams were well rounded into form, but the end of the season finds them in the best possible condition. Spaulding, the right fielder, has been called home on account of the sickness of his mother, and will not be in the line-up. Thomas will play the position, and the team will not be perceptibly weakened by the change.

Thacker and Phillips or Mounier will do the pitching, and the game promises to be the most interesting one held in collegiate circles this year. The St. Vincent's line-up will be the same as last Saturday.

The "Saints" are greatly disappointed over their defeat, as they expected to pull through the season with a clean record. Haggerty is determined to win this time, and as the centest will be on neutral ground, neither side will have an undue advantage, and it will be up to the teams themselves.
